

Hey there,

Nothing in the breakthrough or notable-development range today -- the two items that cleared the noise floor are both on the infrastructure and business side.

Also Worth Noting

- AI / Data Center Infrastructure -- IEEE Spectrum examines how the volatility of AI compute workloads (not just raw scale) is quietly stressing grid stability, a dynamic that utilities and grid operators are only beginning to account for in long-term planning. IEEE Spectrum
-

Back in 48 hours with the next sweep.

P.S. 15 RSS feeds | last 48h | 9 entries fetched, 2 scored ≥ 5